This is Davie's statement, and you can take it, as well as everything click he said, for what it is worth.

On Saturday night last, the 3d inst., the city of Hannibal, Mo., was the scene of a foul and most strectous murder. It appears that Folicemen Fairbairn and Ballinger, while attempting to stop a drunken row, were set upon by several rufflans, which resulted in the killing of Ballinger, and serious damage to Fairbairn. Two of the parties engaged it the riot made their escape into filmos. Bill Myers, who did the catting, was arrested and lodged in the calaboose. Ballinger died about a c'elock on Eunday afternoon. He was a German, about a years of age, was ammaried, and highly respected by all who knew him.

My conversation with Mr. Davis was unrestricted, and, during the course of it, I had occasion to refer to the sufferings of our prisoners at Andersenville, Belle Isle. Libby Prison, etc., as well as to the exchange of prisoners. Mr. Davis said that he was silvays auxious to be relieved of the prisoners on his hands. He said his ports were blockaded; that he was warbout supplies or the means of obtaining them, even for his own scalers; and, finding hisself in that strait, he proposed to deliver, with or without exchange, all the sion, wounded and disabled sediers held by him. I then remarked to Mr. Davis, "Why was not an exchange effected?" He stated, "There was one man in your centility who provented it." I replied. "Do you refer to Mr. Stauton?" He said, "I do how; it was —"I asked him to allow me to make use of the name and circumstances connected with it. But he said, "Occupying the position that I do, it would be imprisper."

he said. "Occupying the position that I do it would be inquieper."

Next, I commenced talking with him about an Alderman from Tennessee, now loading in Washington. I seidon so far forget my said as to talk about men who have filed. "All the positions up," but concent't restrain from telling Mr. Davis that the controlling party in the North regarded Mr. Johnson as the worst enemy of the South, and that he was the stumbing block in the way of reconstruction. Mr. Davis was quite trank in taking with me on this subject. I may be averstepping the bounds of my interview when I give publicity to only one of a number of significant remarks that he made, but Mr. Davis said to me that he "believed he iJohnson was deing what he, shought best for the South, but it had resulted budg." There was much that was mentioned in this consection which I am not at therty to make use of at present, although by way of parenthesis I will state that no utterance was given to any expressions disrespectful to United States offends. Differing as widely as the poles with Mr. Pavis, I did not near him tuler an unkind word against any one, especially Mr. Johnson, and must admit that I was more charmed with his conversation that his to approximent man with whom it has been my fortune to next the expresses limined for peace, and I believe him to-day, great a Rebe as he was less a trailor and a wore hount was them andrew Johnson, who has made treasen to "silorens".

I remarked to Mr. Davis that the supporters of our Gov-house non then Andrew Johnson, who has made treasen to "storeds".

I remarked to Mr. Davis that the supporters of our Government were surprised that the Stoppers-Henter-Lincoin-Seward interview of 1865, at Hampton Roads should have resulted as it did. He said the meeting was a proposition from the North, which was freely accepted by the South. I think in saying this Mr. Davis intended to convey, without mentioning names, the idea that the proposition came from a Conservative Republican standpoint and would be adopted by the main body of the Hadical party. Anyhow, a conference was had, terminating as an know, in a failure. At Hampton Roads, Mr. Davis told me that Hunter proposed to treat for peace on the basis of at least a quark recognition. Be this Mr. Lincoln repudd, "that it would not do." Hunter then referred to the action of Charles the First in treating with the receipe of frehand—that the King had accorded the Irish readis certain provideres, and shat an honorable peace had been effected. Mr. Lincoln (so Mr. Davis saye) geolied that he didn't know much about history, and all that he knew about Charles the First was, that he lost his head?

Linformed Mr. Lincoln thought the Korth held.

client know much about history, and all time he know about Charles the First was, that he lost his head?

ANDERSONVILLE, fee.

Lintermed Mr. Luvis that the people of the North held him, as representing the Confederacy, largely responsible for the sufferings and deaths of our prisoners at Andersonville, Libby, and other places. He replied that bething in connection with the war gave him more pain that such statements should be retailed about. Without going also any defense in extense, he stated that he believed there was a Providence and a just God who righted everything, and that the whole matter would shortly be ventilated. I nighed him how, and in reply he said that the records of Andersonville, &c., had been providentially preserved and would shortly be made pistle. "You will then see," says Mr. Davis, "who is and who is not responsible for lives and sufferings." I told have saddled on them that which was at the present time resing on and bissected into the people of the South. He again replied that the whole history would in ashort time become public groperty, and that then judgment could be formed, and the responsibility fastened.

I have no bestudy in saying that Davis recognizes himself as thopoughly subdued, and is wanting patiently to be reconstructed. He has no political ambition, and for a man who headed a cruelly and wanten rebellion, feels, as I believe, thoroughly conjectered.

Napoleon at St. Helema was not more reck-bound than is Jefferson Davis in Causada. That he was able at any time to have dealt with him as it hose, none will deny; that a farce in ward before on derests a function asylum, are pisting shystering and crazy parts, will not be disputed.

My caudid opinion is, that Jefferson Davis will die a natural deast. He was a rebel by choice, Mr. Johnson as one by accident.

Davis said they were getting educated, and in the United States were far in advance of the Liberians. Accepting their reported progress as a fact, he thought the finance augment well. I don't think he has any superior love for the negre, and without looking into a man's heart, am of ordinon that, at present, he hasn't much hatred toward them. I am more convinced of this from the fact that he told me he was in correspondence with one of his former slaves, now cultivating a plantation in dississipping his own account, with no one to molest or make him afraid.

PETROLEUM AND MINING STOCKS

The clearings at the Gold Exchange Bank were $37,730,000, and the balance $1,271,200. The export of pecie by the America is reported at $166,137. Government bonds are lower, and a concession was made on the leading issues. The miscellaneous shares were inactive and dull. Pacific Mail was active, and advanced to 1462. Atlantic was also firm at 112. The railway share market opened at a decline from the closing prices of yesterday, but under sharp bidding Erie was advanced to 721. The North-Western shares were lower, the preferred selling at 712. Rock Island was in request at 1691. The balance of the list was very tame, and the amount of business very small, At the Board New-York Central was firm at 1051@1051. Eric dull at 711@72. Hndson was firm at 1941. Cleveland and Pittsburgh was stendy at 942. The chief interest in the market centers in Erie, which under easy money, an abundant harvest, and the idea of a new administration, has been put up 15 per cent. It remains in the hands of the clique, which has forced it up, and new purchases are looked for with growing anxiety, as it is a conceded fact that the income of 1867 will not pay its interest accounts and leases, leaving its entire stock without income. At the Second Board there was a sharp reaction in the market, and a decline of 1@1 per cent. Erie sold at 70f; Michigan Southern, 811 : North-Western, 461 : North-Western Preferred, 701 : Reck Island, 103. After the call the market continued dull and unsettled, and closed heavy and lower on the entire list. The advance of the past few days was almost entirely confined to Erie, which was skillfully bid up without purchasing much stock, for the purpose of selling; and a sharp reaction must be had downward before any of activity can be had in the general list. The closing prices were: New-York Central, 105@1051; Erie, 703@701; Wabash, 50 bid; Michigan Southern, 811 2821; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 93 bid; Rock Island, 102, @103; North-Western, 401@461; North-Western Preferred, 701

@70%. Money continues easy, and it is with difficult what banks find use for their balances at 3@4 per cent, stock houses borrowing on mixed collaterals at 5@6 per cent. In commercial paper no change. There is a steady demand for currency from the interior, and at the same time a large amount of compound notes coming from the country for redemption. The 7.30's are also coming here for conversion in considerable amounts. The deposits of the city banks, from several causes, are expected at the next statement to show an increase of magnitude and great strength in legal-tenders in the next two statements. From September onward affairs will naturally change, and during the remainder of the year the banks will be able to maintain the legal reserves upon a much smaller movement than the present. Foreign Exchange is quiet. Bills at 60 days on London are quoted at 1081 @ 1091 for commercial; 109] @109] for bankers'; do. at short sight, 109] @ 1102; Paris at 60 days, 5.182@5.15; do. at short sight, 5.15@5.131; Antwerp, 5.182@5.15; Swiss, 5.182@ 5.15; Hamburg, 851@961; Amsterdam, 401@41; Frankfort, 401@41; Bremen, 78@781; Prussian thalers, 711@72. The bank return shows that, both as regards the de-posit and discount business, the variations presented are of little importance, and the reserve is almost stationary. Of the £154,589 added to the bank's stock of the precious of ittle importance, and the reserve is almost standary. If the £154,859 added to the bank's stock of the precious metals, the bulk must consist of coin received from the Provinces, for the amount sent in from abroad was only £35,099. The amount of notes in circulation is £24,182,966, being an increase of £180,265; and the stock of buillion in both departments is £22,25438, showing an increase of £184,859 when compared with the preceding return. Large supplies of gold and gold coin have been received from Liverpeol, out of the recent arrivals from New-York and other quarters. Nearly the whole has been taken for export. Any effect the bank movement beight have had on the Stock Exchange markets was neutralized by the disquieting political news from the Continent. However, the feeling of apprehension with regard to the relations between France and Prussia having been considerably diminished by the assurances of the Moniteur, in a pacific article which we publish elsewhere, more firmness pervades the markets, and for most descriptions of securities an improvement in price has taken place. A clause recently introduced in a Government Inland Revenue bill for the purpose of imposing a peany stamp on all coupons of foreign and other securities, has been withdrawn.

The weekly return of the Bank of France shows

Increase, coin and bullion, £272,000; bills discounted, £200,000; notes in circulation, £1,000,600. Decrease—Private deposits, £30,000; advances, £3,000; Gevernment coin and bullion brings the total up to £35,417,000. The increase in the discount is not of much importance, but notes have been more wanted for the purposes of circuserior.

The St. Louis Republican, of the 12th inst., says: The volume of business is still below general expecta-ion, and notwithstanding active operations during the arly part of the week in flour, wheat, and corn, and a early part of the week in flour, wheat, and corn, and a decided recovery in provisions within the past two days, we cannot resist the conclusion that general trade has been dull, and the average of prices has scarcely been preserved. In merchandlese departments there has been very little doing, and as the accounts from the country, of its unwillingness to buy, and the marked indisposition of farmers to sell their grain, except at about the average of $2 for Fall wheat on their farms, are not calculated to sastain those who have been expecting an active resumption of business upon the harvesting of the Summer crops, there has been less disposition among merchants to relinquish than we have noticed at any corresponding period since the disruption of trade at the beginning of the war.
